

NESCAI '06

First North East Student Colloquium on AI April 28-29, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY

NESCAI is a student run conference for students from North Eastern North America who are interested in all aspects of AI. It is a great opportunity to present your work, meet other graduate students and get feedback about your research and research ideas.

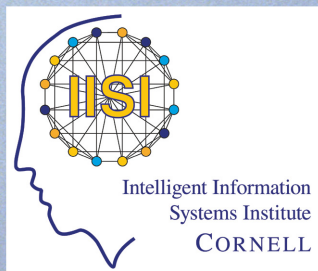

Submissions close March 13th, registration closes April 6th.

There is no registration fee, and one night's shared accomodation is provided free.

Invited Speakers

Jon Kleinberg, Cornell University

Tom Mitchell, Carnegie Mellon University

Program Committee

Ulrich Germann (Toronto)

Anna Goldenberg (CMU)

Rebecca Hutchinson (CMU)

Qian Liu (UPenn)

Ryan McDonald (UPenn)

Alex Niculescu-Mizil (Cornell, co-chair)

Filip Radlinski (Cornell, co-chair)

Scott Sanner (Toronto)

<http://www.cs.cornell.edu/Conferences/Nescai/>